From June to September we are pleased to offer single, en-suite rooms at John Dodgson House. This modern and well-equipped self-catering residence is owned by University College London.

The residence is situated on Bidborough Street, just around the corner from the British Library, and is 10 minutes' walk from the school. The residence is self-catered and offers single en-suite rooms each with their own shower, toilet and wash hand basin.

Bed linen and hand towels are provided, but students should bring their own bath towels.

Kitchen facilities are on every floor and shared between 5-10 people. They are fully equipped with electric cooker, refrigerator, and freezer, microwave, kettle, crockery and kitchen utensils.

For students who do not wish to cook for themselves, there are many places to eat nearby. Evening meals are also available in the London Central canteen at an additional cost.

The residence also has a large TV room and launderette available for students to use. Each bedroom is equipped with an internet socket (internet available at a fee.)

Local shopping facilities can be found in the Brunswick Centre on Marchmont Street and the residence is very close to both the underground and main line stations of Kings Cross St Pancras and the Eurostar platforms.
