The Two Ways

1

Non - Partner Institutions

We also recognize that students may want to go to a non-partner institution as well. Students still benefit from the support of our University Consultant Service in the research and application phase.

There are two possible programs of study open to you:

2

Partners Institution

St Giles Vancouver has a number of Pathway partners, whose courses you can enter without needing to take an internationally recognized English exam.

They also offer a conditional letter of acceptance to eligible St Giles Vancouver international students, making the study permit application process easier.

English for College and University Studies

Choose this course if you want to study at a Canadian college or university and need to acquire the critical thinking, presentation, academic writing and research skills necessary to be successful in your studies.

This course consists of

20 General English lessons in the mornings

+

10 lessons of English for University Studies in the afternoons

IELTS Preparation

Choose this program if the institution you want to study at does not have a pathway agreement with us and you need to achieve a score on an internationally recognised English exam.

Our University Consultant will be able to help you assess how close you are to achieving the English goal of your desired University or College and to make a plan with you.

This course consists of

20 General English lessons in the mornings

+

10 lessons of IELTS Preparation in the afternoons

General English plus Academic Exit test

For some of our partner institutions, all that is required is that you pass our internal English for Academic Purposes exit test. This means that you can continue to study in our General English classes and sit the exit test when you are ready.

Our University Consultant again, will be able to help you assess how close you are to achieving your English goal and advise on the best time in your studies to take the test.

Book in an appointment any time with our University Consultant.

Just come to reception to make your appointment.
